SENIOR CLASS

ELMER HOOD Gamma Sigma ELYTHEVILLE, ARKANSAS Candidate for A.B.

A glance at the popularity section shows what is thought of our class president. His college career has been marked by the highest order of loyalty to his class, his society, and to his duties in the many positions he has held.

DR. B. S. FOSTER "The Grand Old Man of Henderson"

His wishes and desires are many—but all for the benefit of others, not himself. Dr. Foster completely forges himself in his earnest, loyal devotion to his work and to the interests of his students. A true gentleman of the Old South, his life is an example of perfect devotion to ruth and the highest ideals for men and women. His teachings create a genuine desire to live the kind of life that counts for the most.

MISS MILDRED SHERROD French Instructor

Alabama's loss was our gain when Miss Sherrod left her native state to come and teach the romance language in the "College with a Heart." She has made lasting friendships among her students and is always ready to encourage their honest efforts. Her personality, radiating efficiency, sweetness and optimism, is felt in all phases of our college life. A picnic or hike would not be complete without our sponsor, and when there is a serious class meeting on hand she is always present to give her practical suggestions.

Cucling hair and langhing eyes! That's Lillian. She is so full of pep that it is a joy to be with her especially at footbal games. Beginning the season with a new coach and practically a new team no one knew or ventured to predict the outcome of the 1925 season. However the Reddies played through the strenuous schedule that had been arranged for them and with a fair degree of success.

REDDIES, O; L. P. I., O

The Reddies played their first game with the Louisiana Tech at Ruston. The old Reddie spirit was displayed when the Reddies fought the Louisiana team to a scoreless tie on a wet and muddy field. Adams, Bulloch, McClendon and Parker were the stars of the game.

REDDIES, O; COMMODORES, 41

The Reddies then traveled to Nashville where they took on the Commodores who showed vast strength against the Reddies and defeated them by a score of 41 to o. Although the Reddies were seriously weakened by the loss of B. Wright and Frank Jenkins, star guards, out on the account of injuries, they made a strong showing against so formidab'e an opponent as the Vanderbilt machine.

REDDIES, 3; WONDER BOYS, O

In the third game of the season, the Reddies triumphed over their golden-jersied opponents, the Wonder Boys of Arkansas Tech, in a bitterly contested struggle on Haygood field by a score of 3 to o. The score being due to the trusty toe of Captain Victor Bulloch, who booted the ball between the uprights from the a5-yard line. Two minutes later Captain Bulloch was carried from the field with a broken collar bone and a fractured rib.

REDDIES, 7; NORMAL, 10

The following week the Reddies took the train for the State Normal and feeling overconfident they went on the gridiron and allowed the inferior team of the Teachers to win by the score of 7 to 10. In all justice to the Reddies it must be said that two important cogs were missing from their machine, Bulloch and Cornish being unable to participate.

REDDIES, 0; S. P. U., 20

The next game was played on Haygood field where the Reddies, failing to score allowed S. P. U. to pile up an points during the first quarter. This ended the scoring however for the Reddies settled down to work and played as "Bo" Rowland had taught them to play. The game was a splendid exhibition save for the first quarter when the Reddies lacked the proper defenses.

Reddies, 6; College of Ozarks, o

"Bo" did not like these two defeats in a row so he took his team to Clarksville, with the firm determination to win from the College of the Ozarks, who the week before had held the Ouachita Tigers to a 3 to o score. The Reddies evidently started the game with fire in their heads, for they upset the dope bucket and came home dragging the scalps of their enemies as the result of a victory by a score of 6 to o, made when Combs, Reddie end, took a blocked punt across the Ozarks goal for the only score of the game. Hill, Parker, and Cornish were the individual stars of the game.

REDDIES, 3; HENDRIX, O

The Reddies realized their strength in the College of the Ozarks game and after that they were hard to stop, as they proved when the haughty men from Hendrix came down to give Henderson-Brown a mild trouncing. However this game was peaches and cream for the Reddies because, the soul of the team, Victor Bulloch was again directing the attack. Receiving the ball on the kickoff, on a series of first downs, Bulloch drove his team in to the Bulldog territory, and directly in front of the goal posts. Then, calling for a pair of dry shoes, he stepped quietly back, signalled for a place kick, and with Cornish holding the ball, lifted it squarely over the cross-bar for a perfect field goal from the 43-yard line. Three minutes later, after carrying the ball four successive times for a total gain of 41 yards, Bulloch was laid on a stretcher and carried from the field with a broken arm. This marked the passing of the great captain from gridiron history for the season of 1925. The Reddies were unable to score after the loss of their gallant captain who in leaving carried with him victory over our oldest rival, the Bulldogs.

REDDIES, 26; EAST TEXAS NORMAL, 6

Benny Parker and Loeb Duncan took over the quarterback position and led the team to a 26 to o victory over the East Texas State Normal at Commerce, Texas. Parker, Hill, and Cornish were strongest on offense, while Fissel, Carson, Adams, and Sewell were the stars of the Reddie defense. The Reddies probably reached their greatest strength in this game.

REDDIES, O; AUSTIN COLLEGE,

The Austin College team defeated the Reddies, 7 to 0, in the next to the last game of the season. The game was played on Haygood field and in a sea of mud which made good football impossible by either side.

REDDIES, 7; TIGERS, 46

The Reddies lost the last game of the season on Thanksgiving Day when the Tigers crossed the ravine and won by a score of 46 to 7. The kertra hard schedule played by the Reddies and the nunerous accidents sustained aided the real strength of the Tigers to win by the largest score made against a Henderson team in many years.

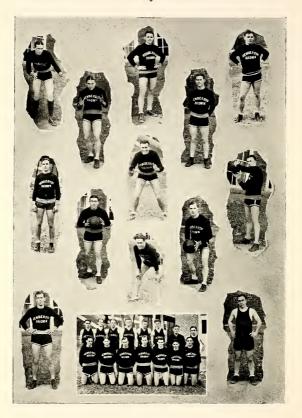

1926 Basketball Prospects

The 1926 Reddies should be a winning combination, for several reasons. Three letter men of the successful 1925 team will be back to play this year. The team will be coached by "Bo" Rowland and, considering the supply of material that he will have to work with, the Reddies should give some one a run for the state championship. Little is known of the ability of the freshmen who intend to play basketball, but there will be afforded a fine opportunity for some of the new men to make letters their first year. This fact should cause many men to come out for basketball and at the same time put more ginger in the work of the entire squad.

Of course it is impossible for anyone at the present time to tell how the race for the championship will end, but the close of the season should find the Reddies with the win column marked up considerably.

The 1925 Baseball Season

Seven victories and seven defeats is the record of the 1935 baseball team. Our nine started off like a whirlwind, even though some of the players were ineligible and the squad was largely composed of new men. Everything went along nicely until the disastrous Normal-Hendrix trip when the Reddies could not function properly. Thereafter the defeats predominated over the victories,

1926 PROSPECTS

A good schedule has been arranged for the 1926 baseball team. Only a few men are missing from the 1925 varsity, and, with the aid of several Freshman stars, and the return of our ineligibles to good standing, Henderson next season should have a baseball team that in perfection more resembles a Southern League outfit than a college nine.

1925 Track Record

Intercollegiate Triangular Meet Ouachita, 74 points Reddies, 44 points Arkansas Polytechnic, 17 points Intercollegate State Meet Hendrix College, 58 points Ouachita College, 56 points

1926 Track Prospects

Reddies, 11 points

The prospects for a winning Reddie track team for the season of 1926 seem exceedingly bright. Five varsity men will be eligible for competition in the association meets, and added to these there will be several good men who failed to make a letter last year, and a host of freshmen who are supposed to possess much track ability.

An intensive period of training will be taken by all men who go out for track, and the season of 1926 should be a season long to be remembered in the annals of Arkansas track history and in the history of Henderson-Brown track teams.
